Today's Game

By Tim Bourret

Georgia Tech quarterback John Dewberry may have feelings of déjà vu this afternoon as he looks across the field at Clemson quarterback Randy Anderson. The Tigers' 6-5 sophomore is in a similar situation to one Dewberry faced just two seasons ago. Anderson and Dewberry will be pivotal figures as both Georgia Tech and Clemson strive to break one-game losing streaks this afternoon in Death Valley.

Just two years ago young sophomore John Dewberry was called into the Clemson game to replace the injured Stu Rogers. Dewberry had seen only limited action, but played well in front of the highly partisan Clemson crowd. He had a 66-yard run on a broken play for a Tech touchdown and had 101 yards rushing in 10 carries for the day, the most yardage rushing by an opposing quarterback since Danny Ford has been at Clemson. But, throwing the football, he hit just 4-10 passes for 23 yards and he took his lumps from Clemson's veteran defense.

Last year, with a season of experience under his belt, Dewberry led Georgia Tech to a 28-21 victory over the Tigers in Atlanta. With new confidence in his throwing ability, he had 10 completions in 20 attempts and had over 200 yards in total offense. It was a key victory, personal and team, as Dewberry went on to win All-ACC honors from the ACC Sportswriters Association and he guided Tech to a 6-4-1 record.

In many ways, Clemson quarterback Randy Anderson is Dewberry two years removed. He lacks game experience as Dewberry did two years ago when the Tech quarterback was called on the field. Both are big and strong with a wealth of natural athletic talent. The difference right now is the experience level.

Anderson gained a lot of experience last week against Georgia. The native of Spartanburg already has a game on national TV under his belt and has now performed in front of 81,000 people in a sold-out stadium. Anderson completed 14 of 33 passes for 183 yards last week in the 20-13 loss to Georgia, and he adeptly floated passes over the middle to his receivers, especially Jim Riggs, Clemson's Chevrolet Player-of-the-Game. Anderson completed 17 passes for 220 yards in the opener against Virginia Tech and that was the most completions ever by a Clemson quarterback in his first game as a starter. Danny Ford has confidence in his young quarterback's ability to throw. Before the beginning of the year, no Danny Ford team had thrown over 30 passes in a regular season game. Now the Tigers have done it in the last two weeks.

There are other interesting matchups to look for this afternoon; not matchups of offense vs. defense as much as players who play the same position for each team showing excellence when their team is on the field.

Two of the top offensive linemen in America will be on display today. Clemson's Steve Reese was an honorable mention All-American by AP last year and he was a preseason selection by the Sporting News this year. He has graded at least 80 percent in 15 straight games and has started the last 19 games for Clemson at offensive guard. John Davis is a terror at tackle for Georgia Tech. The junior played center last year and was named Sports Illustrated's National Offensive Player-of-the-Week for his performance against William Perry.

The battle of the backfields should also be interesting as both teams have a pair of tailbacks with over 100 yards so far this season. Kenny Flowers has been Clemson's best tailback so far with 27 carries for 142 yards, a 5.3 average. He had 85 yards against Georgia to lead Clemson's rushing output. Stacey Driver, the gutty 5-8 tailback who has started each of the last two games, has 103 yards and a 4.1 average to go with four pass receptions for 57 yards.

Georgia Tech calls its backfield the Microship Backfield because the group is powerful, but diminutive. Cory Collier (5-7, 192) and Jerry Mays (5-8, 171) are two tailbacks that share duty for Georgia Tech. Mays leads all rushers with 137 yards and Collier, ACC Rookie-of-the-Year two seasons back, has a five-yard average on 23 carries this season.

Defensively, watch for Clemson's Terence Mack and Georgia Tech's Pat Swilling. Mack played both the "Bandit" and the drop end last Saturday against Georgia. Despite missing about a quarter of the game due to heat exhaustion, Mack still had 11 total tackles and now has 25 for the season. The active linebacker-lineman-cornerback might be Clemson's best all-around athlete on the defense.

Swilling had a season's worth of quarterback sacks at N.C. State two weeks ago. The senior had a world record seven sacks for 53 yards in that one game as he personally ruined Erik Kramer's debut as the starting quarterback for the Wolfpack. Swilling, who also roams all over the field, has eight sacks now for the season, a total that surely leads the nation and is second on the team in total tackles.

In the secondary, Cleve Pounds has been around the Georgia Tech secondary for many years. The reliable performer led the Georgia Tech team in tackles last year from his secondary position with 114. Clemson's free safety, A.J. Johnson, has been an inspiration to walk-ons everywhere this year with 27 tackles in the first two games of the season, the second-best total on the team.

So, you will have to pay attention in this one if you want to keep up with the matchups. Last year's 28-21 victory for Georgia Tech was a triumph that gave the young Yellow Jackets confidence and it allowed them to move into the top 20. Now the tables are turned as Clemson strives to end an unusual two-game losing streak in Death Valley.

This is the 50th meeting between Clemson and Georgia Tech on the gridiron and the Yellow Jackets lead the series 35-12-2. This is only the third time, however that the game has been played at Clemson. Clemson has won both of the meetings in Death Valley, including a 41-14 win in 1983. This is only the seventh meeting between the two teams over the last 10 years and Clemson leads in games since 1974, 3-2-1. Danny Ford is 1-1 against the Yellow Jackets and Bill Curry has the same record vs. Clemson.

Clemson has 28 players from the state of Georgia on its roster, including six starters. A total of 15 players from the state of Georgia are on the travel roster and 13 got into the game against Georgia last week. Two Tigers actually list their hometown as Atlanta, wide receiver Ricardo Hooper and cornerback Gene Beasley.

Clemson continues to have excellent field goal kicking as David Treadwell hit 2-2 last Saturday. Treadwell, who won the Virginia Tech game with a 36-yarder as time ran out, is now 4-4 in his short career at Clemson. Over the last five years plus two games Clemson's field goal kicking has been nothing short of amazing. During this time Clemson has converted 94 of 120 field goal attempts, a .783 figure. The Tigers are even better inside the 40 and inside the 50 during this time. Clemson is 88-103 inside the 50 (.854) and 64-70 (.914) inside the 40 for the same time period. In the last three years plus two games Clemson is 34-37 inside the 40.

Congratulations are in order for Clemson soccer coach Dr. I.M. Ibrahim. The only coach to lead Clemson to an NCAA tournament championship won his 250th career contest last Sunday in a 2-0 victory over Duke. The Tigers are still ranked number-one in the nation and will meet Winthrop on Sunday afternoon at Riggs field. Clemson will also play host to Furman this Wednesday evening at 8:00 pm.

The Tigers scored just 13 points against Georgia last week, its lowest point total since the 1982 Georgia game in Athens. That covers a streak of 33 games. Still Clemson scored in double figures and has now scored in double figures in 34 straight games.

Ironically, the only two times in the last four years Clemson has failed to score at least 15 points in a game have come against Georgia and both games have been on national television. Since Danny Ford has been at Clemson the Tigers have scored in doubles figures 67 of 71 games and Clemson has scored at least 20 points in 43 games. Clemson has a 38-5 record in those contests.

Junior wide receiver Ray Williams needs just 44 yards in kickoff returns to become Clemson's all-time leader in total career kickoff return yardage. The native of Fayetteville, NC, has 925 career kickoff return yards, second only to Warren Ratchford's total of 968 yards. He already has the record for number of returns with 45. Clemson has not returned a kickoff for a touchdown since October 13, 1963 when Hal Davis went 98 yards against Georgia in a contest played at Clemson.

Steve Reese

By Kassie Kessinger

"Following Steve Reese is like traveling down I-63." This statement was made by Steve's teammate — Clemson tailback Stacey Driver — and it is perhaps the greatest tribute a running back can give an offensive lineman.

The veteran Reese is just one more in a long line of outstanding Clemson offensive linemen who have helped pave the road to success for many better known Tiger running backs. But the 6-3, 270-pound guard has achieved quite a number of accolades of his own since arriving in Tigertown from Thomson, GA in 1982.

He is an Outland Trophy and Jacobs Blocking Trophy candidate who has started the last 20 games in a row and played in the last 32. He consistently grades over 90 percent. Last season as a junior, Reese became only the second underclassman interior offensive lineman to make All-ACC this decade. He also was honorable mention All-America according to Associated Press and the Football News in '84.

Being singled out as a bonafide all-star candidate can bring with it much prestige as well as added pressure, particularly if one has eligibility remaining and must live up to newly inflated expectations. Such is the case with Reese as he is concluding his fourth and final season as a Tiger.

With all the expectations mounting and the honors that continue to come his way, Steve admits to feeling a little pressure in turning in a repeat performance in '85. "Well, when we started off the year it was pretty much in my mind, but I think I've been pressing too hard and now I'm just trying to relax and play the kind of game that I've been playing in the past years," he said. "I'm not trying to worry about what's suppose to happen and what isn't suppose to happen. I'm not going to let it worry me. I'll just worry about it at the end of the year."

This attitude is not suprising since Steve isn't a man obsessed with planning or dreaming much beyond the moment at hand. For the death of his father when Steve was just a youngster taught him how precious our one and only life truly is. We are not to hang our hopes on the future but to enjoy the moment that is at hand.

"I don't try to dwell on not having a father," he said, "especially now any way, as I've come to accept it. I just try to look at the positive things in life. Football can always be there, but life, it can end at any moment, so I try to live for the moment, not trying to worry about everything."

His living for the moment is reflected in his approach to the game of football. He lives for the play, not looking ahead or behind, just taking one play and one game at a time. "I've put everything that happened last year out of my mind," he said. "I'm just trying to focus on things this year. We will just take one game at a time and see what will happen."

Reese was one of only two Tiger rookies not red-shirted his freshman year. This fact is all the more impressive when you consider that he was a mere lightweight in the sometimes hefty battles of prep recruiting. But for Steve this actually proved to be a blessing in disguise. "I was just happy to come to Clemson and get a scholarship," he recalls. "I think not being heavily recruited was better because I was loose and didn't have to worry about proving myself. It let me sort of ease on into things and it really worked out for the best."

As a freshman Reese saw action in 10 of the 11 games and even earned ACC Rookie-of-the-Week honors for his performance against Virginia. But for Steve his "confidence building game" came his sophomore year against Georgia Tech. "I graded out pretty good in that game, and the next game I started, and I've been starting ever since," he remembered.

Perhaps his finest hour as a Tiger occurred last season at N.C. State, when he recovered a fumble and had key blocks on two third-down plays in the final drive that lifted the Tigers to a 35-34 victory. He also had an incredible block in that game, one that led to a Steve Griffin touchdown that would have counted in touch football. In the spirit of Franco Harris it is known as the immaculate block (see cover of this program). Reese blocked out four players on the play in setting Griffin free.

"I'd say the State game was probably my best overall game but I think I had a pretty good outing at Georgia Tech as well. I was pleased with the way the State game turned out. It was such a dogfight. We had expected them to give us a tough game, but we didn't expect it to be that high scoring of a game. We had to keep putting points on the board and luckily we came out ahead at the end."

Consistency appears to be another trademark of Reese's according to his roommate Kenny Danforth. "Steve's a real quiet leader, one who leads by example," explained Danforth. "All the guys know how good he is and continue to be amazed by his unbelievable consistency, dedication and ability. Not only are all the young guys in awe of Steve, but so are the older guys." It might be said that when Steve talks, people listen.

When asked what he thinks makes him such a standout, Reese says, "I don't think

I really have stood out more than other players. I think I've just used the ability that I've been given to the fullest. I think everybody works just as hard, but it just comes naturally to me. I hope I've tried to take every advantage of my natural ability."

Reese's line coach, Larry Van Der Heyden, responds to why Steve is such a standout: "Steve is really a rare individual, because a lot of times you find a guy who has a lot of natural athletic ability but they aren't willing to work hard to really reach their potential. He's a rare guy in that he's got ability and he's going to give everything he's got every time he goes on the field, whether its the practice field or on Saturday afternoon. I think that is what really separates him."

Eying a professional career Steve admits it won't make or break him. "Well of course I'd like to play pro ball, but if not, I won't cry about it. I'll finish my degree and still be able to make a living and provide for my family, so I won't consider myself a failure. Football certainly isn't the only answer to enjoying life. It is making every moment count that brings you happiness."

Where good people go for good food™

IPTAY Athlete-Of-The-Year

By Tim Bourret

Five years ago Street & Smith magazine rated Clemson's basketball recruiting year as one of the top 10 classes in the country. After all, Clemson had recruited two of the top 25 players in America in Raymond Jones and Clarke Bynum and point guard Marc Campbell was among the best backcourt players in the South. A football signee named Mike Eppley was also suppose to be a pretty good player in the roundball game.

Five years later, the last signee from that class, a player only one other Division I school recruited, was named Clemson University's Athlete-of-the-Year as chosen by the IPTAY organization. Vincent Hamilton was a throw in, someone else to fill out the roster, when Bill Foster signed him in the late spring of 1980.

I remember the phone call vividly. Coach Foster told me earlier in the day to stick by the phone that night because he might have another signee for me to release. That late signee became one of just four players in the history of the ACC to record over 1,500 career points, 325 assists and 600 rebounds. And, as of this writing he is striving to make it in the NBA with the Indiana Pacers.

"I never really expected to play much until my junior year," said Hamilton recently. "I improved a lot at the end of my senior year in high school, but only Appalachian State showed any interest throughout the season. And, coach Foster would not have come after me if Rick McKinstry had not left. I was just the next guy on the list who was available."

Despite the lack of year round attention, Hamilton jumped at the chance to play in the ACC and with the Tigers. "After one visit I had my mind made up, that is all it took. And, I did not come at a popular time of the year, it was after school was out and there was practically no one on campus. So, it was not a Clemson football or basketball game that recruited me, it was the people I met and the campus."

One can determine from a conversation with Hamilton that he has a natural love for the school. And, the players and coaches he has worked with over the last five seasons have the same feeling. "Vincent Hamilton meant so much to me last year in my first season," said Head Coach Cliff Ellis. "In a transitional situation you need a leader, need a veteran that the other players can turn to. Vincent was our man last season, he did it on the court and off the court."

"He laid it on the line every day in practice and in every game. There were times last year when we wanted him to sit out a practice because he had a virus, but he never did. He's a hard worker and an example to everyone."

Past IPTAY Athletes of the Year

1978-79 Steve Fuller, Football
1979-80 Noel Loban, Wrestling
1980-81 Hans Koeleman, Track
1981-82 Barbara Kennedy, Women's Basketball
1982-83 Terry Kinard, Football
1983-84 Mike Eppley, Football & Basketball
1984-85 Vincent Hamilton, Basketball

You might say hard work has been the watchword for Vincent Hamilton because he has always had to fight for everything. When he came to Clemson in 1980 the Tigers were a preseason top 20 pick by Sports Illustrated with Larry Nance returning for his senior season. Few expected Hamilton to contribute. But, one play in a January game against N.C. State changed the course of Hamilton's career.

"Without a doubt the dunk over Chuck Nevitt my freshman year is the one play I remember the most about my career at Clemson. There were a lot of people there that night and I had a good game going, but when I dunked over Nevitt it was like I gained instant confidence. People started to give me more respect after that game and I got a lot more confidence in myself."

Hamilton went on to average almost nine points a game for Clemson's last 20-game winner and he started the last 22 games of the season. The following year Hamilton continued to work hard and put together one of the finest all-around individual years in Clemson history. The native of Rutherfordton, NC averaged 15 points a contest and became the first player in Clemson history to lead the ACC in field goal percentage (.586). He was a second-team All-ACC selection and all of a sudden people were talking about this throw-in recruit as a pro prospect.

A trip to Alaska in 1982 ended Hamilton's first junior season very early. With minutes left in a contest with Washington in the old gym on the army base in Anchorage, Hamilton sprinted toward an enemy player driving for a layup. Hamilton made a marvelous block, but in his landing he fell on his right arm and broke his wrist. It did not take Dr. Byron Harder long to diagnose the injury as a season-ending broken wrist.

"It was tough to face a long rehabilitation period after having a good sophomore year," said Hamilton. "Because I had to prove myself in basketball when I was young, it helped me at Clemson when I was injured. I had always learned to fight for things and prove myself, so when I was injured I just became more determined to succeed."

In 1984-85 as a red-shirt senior Hamilton had a stellar season. He led the rejuvenated Tigers to the NIT and upset wins over Georgia Tech, Maryland and North Carolina with a 15.1 average. He did it in all phases of the game, as he became only the second guard in the history of the ACC to lead his team in rebounding.

You can go on and on with Vincent Hamilton's on the court accomplishments; 116 games played and 105 games started; 652 field goals, more than any player in Clemson history; 1530 career points, the third best in Clemson history; and 628 career rebounds, the second best total by a guard in the history of the famed Atlantic Coast Conference.

But, enough of these stats for they do not depict what Vincent Hamilton gave to Clemson.

I can't think of anyone more deserving of this award from IPTAY. Vincent Hamilton symbolizes what IPTAY stands for in a lot of ways. IPTAY's success was founded on the undying and hard-working efforts of a handful of people who loved Clemson.

At the basketball banquet honoring the 1985 Clemson team Hamilton won nearly every award imaginable. A smiling Hamilton ended his speech to those who had watched him perform for five years by thanking everyone and proclaiming, "I'll always have a little Tiger Paw etched somewhere in my heart."

Vincent Hamilton gave Clemson a lot more than just points and rebounds in his five years on this campus. Sure, he used his opportunity that was gained by his IPTAY-based scholarship to the betterment of himself. But, Clemson athletes, coaches, IPTAY members and those who just love Clemson have gotten much more in return.

Vincent Hamilton is the IPTAY Athlete-of-the-Year for 1984-85, he had a great year. But, in many ways the award is just the continuation of a great career of bringing honor to Clemson. Tina Turner is wrong, we need more heroes, more people like Vincent Hamilton.

Vincent Hamilton is the 1984-85 IPTAY Athlete-of-the-Year.

Victory Peal Symbolic of Clemson's Progress

If the Tigers win the game today, listen for the Victory Peal resounding over the campus in celebration.

In June, the first six bells of a proposed 47-bell carillon were installed in Tillman Tower, where they chime the hour and play the Victory Peal, the first four notes of the Westminster Chime.

The peal, which will ring at graduation and other campus celebrations, is symbolic of the progress Clemson University has made in the past year. For example:

- Students, faculty and staff found a new best friend with LUIS, a computerized library system that allows them to check the status of library holdings from anywhere on campus.

- After a successful fund raiser in Washington, D.C., groundbreaking ceremonies from the Strom Thurmond Institute were set for fall 1985, with Vice President George Bush scheduled to attend.

- With the addition of two new microscopes, Clemson's $1.6 million electron microscope lab became one of the best of its kind in the country, allowing users to magnify images more than 300,000 times.

- In competition with 152 other college units from across the country, the Air Force ROTC detachment marched away with the No. 1 ranking in the nation.

- Helene M. Riley became the first female department head at Clemson when she was named head of the department of languages.

- The South Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station dedicated its new $4 million Pee Dee Research and Education Center near Florence, and construction began on the new $9.5 million chemistry building behind Sirrine Hall.

- Under a program approved by the state Commission on Higher Education, Clemson became the only institution in the state to offer a Ph.D. in computer engineering.

- In May, the university conferred 1,492 degrees — including the first Ph.D. in forestry — to the largest graduating class in Clemson's history.

University President

This has been a special year in the life of Walter Cox. Fifty years ago he enrolled at Clemson as a freshman after graduating from Belton (SC) High School. It is fitting that in his golden jubilee academic year with the University that he has become interim president of Clemson University.

Cox has served Clemson over the last five decades in a number of capacities on the academic side and the athletic side of life, and Clemson has become a lot better place because of his presence. Cox received his bachelor of science degree in June of 1939, then remained for another year to pursue graduate work. In February of 1940 he began his association with the University as a full-time employee as he became a line coach on Frank Howard's first team. He held the assistant coaching position until 1950. During this period he also served as the head baseball coach and as athletic ticket manager.

Cox gained his knowledge on the gridiron from Jess Neely and Frank Howard, two Hall of Fame Head Coaches. Cox played on the Clemson varsity football team between 1937 and 1939 and was an all-state selection in 1939. He was a member of Clemson's first bowl team, an eleven that downed Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. Cox earned three letters in football and the team had a 20-6-2 record during his career.

In 1942 Cox was called into the Armed Forces and served with the rank of lieutenant in the Fiji Islands, New Caledonia and Guadalcanal with the 147th infantry Regiment of the 37th Division.

In 1950 Cox moved on to the other side of campus as he brought his excellent administrative dexterity and knowledge to university administration. Between 1950 and 1955 he served as Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs and as an assistant to the vice president.

In 1955 he moved up to the position of Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students, a position he had held the last 30 years until his most recent appointment on July 2. He has had a stellar career as University Vice President and has directed many programs that have benefited the overall quality of life at Clemson University.

During his three decades as Clemson's first vice president for student affairs and dean of students, Walter Cox guided the campus through a population explosion from 2,700 students in 1955 to more than 12,500 today, a span of years that includes such milestones in the University's development as the enrollment of women and the peaceful desegregation of the institution. Under his leadership the programs and functions of the student affairs division have steadily expanded and improved to meet the changing and increasing needs of this dynamic student body.

Through the offices and departments of admissions and registration, student life, student health services, the University Union, housing, intramurals, intercollegiate athletics, bands, student financial aid, counseling and career services, university canteens, and the bookstore, the student affairs division that Cox has assembled performs essential student services to support and complement Clemson's academic mission. It provides students with special opportunities for intellectual, moral, cultural, spiritual and physical growth.

The success of the comprehensive and progressive approach Cox took as vice president for student affairs is evident in such services as the Counseling and Career Planning Center, which provides individual counseling and group programs on topics ranging from academic and personal concerns to time management and assertiveness training; the University Union, through which students devise, produce and participate in more than 800 varied activities each year; and Fike Recreation Center, a half-million-dollar complex of modern intramural sports and physical training facilities.

Walter Cox has an illustrious and honored history at Clemson University. He is one of only a handful of graduates to be selected to the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and to also win the Clemson Medallion (1984) and the Distinguished Alumni Award (1963). He has truly run out of awards to win, but he still has the motivation to climb more mountains as an active university president. After 50 years of serving a university, most alumni retire to private life. Not Walter Cox, he serves his university from the highest level.

Walter Cox has served Clemson for 50 years.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson

Few Athletic Directors in the country have moved up the ladder as fast as Bobby Robinson. This past March the 39-year-old native of Columbia culminated a 12-year steady progression up the administrative steps to the position of Clemson Athletic Director. He succeeded Bill McLellan on Friday, March 8, 1985.

Robinson came to Clemson in 1970, not in athletics, but in the housing office. After three years he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department. "I started at Clemson in the housing office, but I came to Clemson to work in athletics," said Robinson. "No opening existed at the time so I had to wait until one opened up."

After serving the athletic department in every imaginable manner, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title four years, but his responsibility moved to an area of strength in regard to the football and basketball programs in 1982.

While serving his administrative duties with vigor, he also coached the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach Clemson won its only ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five national finish. Clarence Rose was one of three All-Americans to play for the Tigers during his tenure. Rose is now a successful member of the pro tour.

Thus, it is easy to see why Bobby Robinson is most qualified for the position of athletic director at Clemson University—he has done it all. He has been an administrator at all levels, he has worked in other areas in the University, he has been a head coach and he has handled the budgetary aspects needed to run an 8.5 million dollar program.

Robinson has done everything in the Clemson athletic department, but he concedes there is a big change between associate athletic director and athletic director. "I no longer can just look at what we could do in a situation, it has changed to 'what will we do'. The area of facilities is something I will be more involved in also. We have some of the best facilities in the nation and we want to continue to rank favorably in that area." Robinson already has formulated a 10-year plan for facilities as he has a keen interest in all sports at Clemson. Changes in the soccer facility and tennis facility are planned for the next few years.

All of these factors have allowed him to come to grips with what is necessary to be a leader of a national program such as the one at Clemson. "Our philosophy will always be the same. We're going to be as good as we can be and give our coaches and athletes the opportunity to compete and be successful. That is the primary goal from an athletic point of view.

"From the University point of view, we have to be as good as we can be, yet operate within the rules and be a force within this University. As long as we are within the University structure, we do report to people and we are not different from anybody else—we can be a very positive factor for this University. Our importance is no bigger than that of the English or math department."

Robinson has confidence in his staff, his athletes and the facilities at Clemson University. "We have a solid base in all areas and we are a very solvent athletic department. But, we need to get better, take everything that we have and broaden it. We can't stand still. We will look ahead within the framework of the University and work to expand our horizons. We want to be as good as we can be and be a vital part of this University and represent the State of South Carolina in a positive manner."

Robinson was born in Columbia and attended A.C. Flora High School. During his high school career he was a point guard for the basketball team and a third baseman in baseball. He also played a good bit of golf during his younger days and was a scratch golfer at one time. He did not play any high school sports as a senior because of a heat stroke suffered in the summer of 1963. He graduated from A.C. Flora in 1964 and enrolled at Furman.

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was a member of the varsity golf team and was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman. He worked in his family's real estate business for two years after receiving his degree from Furman.

Bobby Robinson has served Clemson as a successful coach and administrator since 1970.

Clemson football fans owe Auburn some favors. Each of the first four football coaches in Clemson history came from Auburn, including John Heisman, the Hall-of-Fame Coach who laid the groundwork for the Clemson football tradition in the early years of this century.

In contemporary times, Clemson fans owe Auburn another favor, stemming from a friendship between Danny Ford and Pat Dye. Ford, Clemson's head coach since the 1978 Gator Bowl, was a player under Dye when the latter was an assistant coach under Bear Bryant at Alabama. The two became good friends and it was Dye who convinced Ford to pursue the coaching profession.

"Pat Dye and I were good friends when I was in my senior year in college and I was wondering what I was going to do with my life," said Ford. "Coach Dye was the one who pushed me to ask Coach Bryant about a graduate assistantship. He put me on the staff and I have been in coaching ever since."

Clemson fans are certainly happy Ford entered the profession because he has brought a solid program to among the finest in the nation. Now in his seventh full season at Clemson, his record of 52-15-2 (.768) is the fourth best winning percentage in college football among active coaches.

In the last four seasons Clemson has a 37-6-2 ledger, the fourth best winning percentage in America. The class of '84 was the third winningest in ACC history in terms of winning percentage, and no ACC class in the 32-year history of the league ever won more games in a four-year period.

Ford has been a part of three ACC championship teams and one national championship team at Clemson. In 1978 he was offensive coordinator for the 11-1 team that won the Gator Bowl over Ohio State, 17-15. The Gadsden, AL native was more than just the offensive coordinator in that game however, as he had become the head coach of the Tigers on December 10 after Charley Pell had already left to go to Florida. The 30-year-old Ford made quite a celebrated beginning to his head coaching career with that victory over the Woody Hayes coached Buckeyes. The nationally televised Clemson victory helped put the Tigers on the national football map and it began Clemson's climb to among the elite of college football.

In 1981 Ford became the youngest coach in the history of the game to win the National Championship. At the age of 33, Ford surprised the college football world by taking the unranked Tigers to three wins over top 10 teams and a perfect 12-0 record. Clemson handed Herschel Walker the only regular-season loss of his Georgia career, downed North Carolina in Chapel Hill in the only showdown of top 10 teams in ACC history, then defeated former champion Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

That obviously is the highmark of Ford's brief, but eventful career at Clemson as he was named national Coach-of-the-Year by UPI, the College Football Writers of America, the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football Coaches of America.

A review of Ford's football past should help us understand why he has been so successful as a head coach. Another in a long line of former Bear Bryant players that have gone on to greatness in coaching, Ford played for the Bear between 1967 and 1969. He was Kenny Stabler's sophomore tight end as a starter in 1967, played that position in 1968 and moved to offensive tackle in 1969. Ford started all three years, was all-conference in 1969 and played on three teams that went to bowl games. In 1969 he was also a member of the All-SEC academic team, and served as the captain of the Alabama team.

After Dye's coaxing, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. He had already earned his B.S. degree in industrial arts and earned his master's degree in special education in 1971. Ford became a full-time aide for Bryant in 1972 and 1973. The Tide went to four bowl games while Ford was an assistant coach.

Clemson's current head man then accepted a position as an assistant coach under Jimmy Sharpe at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-76) before coming to Clemson as offensive line coach in 1977. And, just 23 games later he was named head coach of the Tigers at the age of 30, the youngest active division I coach in the country.

Few people climb to the top five of their profession by the age of 37. Pat Dye gave Danny Ford some sound advice back in 1969 and Clemson fans are glad he took it.

The Ford family: Danny, Ashley, Elizabeth, Jennifer and Debra.

Assistant Coaches

Miles Aldridge is the newest member of the Tiger coaching staff, as he joined Clemson on June 28, 1985. The native of Kansas City, MO will coach the inside linebackers and recruit in the lower part of South Carolina. A 1971 graduate of Gardner Webb College, he is in his 15th year of coaching. He began his collegiate coaching career at East Tennessee State, after which he moved to Wichita State, Tulsa, and then Mississippi. His most recent stint before Clemson was at Duke, where he served as linebacker coach for two seasons.

Lawson Holland was a reserve quarterback for the Tigers from 1970-73, which makes him the only current coach who played Clemson football. In his seventh year, Holland is in charge of receivers and recruiting Virginia, Washington, D.C., and central North Carolina. The Mooresville, N.C., native earned his B.A. in secondary education from Clemson in 1975.

Nelson Stokley has been the Tigers' offensive coordinator for the past five years. He came to Clemson on January 18, 1980 after serving as offensive coordinator for Virginia Tech. The 1968 graduate of LSU was the school's starting quarterback from 1965-67 and then served the fine southern institution as an assistant coach from 1968-75. Stokley still holds many LSU passing records and he was the SEC Sophomore of the Year in 1965.

Don Denning is in his fifth season with the Clemson staff. The deep secondary coach and north Georgia recruiter joined the Tigers on July 1, 1981. He has previously served Western Carolina as defensive coordinator and assistant athletic director, Memphis State as assistant head coach, and Delta State University as head coach. Denning graduated from Presbyterian College in 1960 and received a master's degree from Western Carolina in 1969.

Woody McCorvey is in his third year of coaching the tight ends. He came to Clemson from Alabama A&M where he was the defensive coordinator for four years. The 1972 Alabama State graduate lettered four years in football at the school before earning his physical education degree. He then received a masters degree in health, leisure and sports from the University of West Florida in 1977.

Larry Van Der Heyden has coached some fine offensive linemen during his six years at Clemson and is a major reason why the Tigers' ground game has been so successful. The offensive line coach joined the staff on January 5, 1979 from Memphis State where he was offensive coordinator for three years. He has also served stints at Iowa State, Drake, Indiana State, East Carolina and Virginia. He earned his B.A. and masters degrees at Iowa State and lettered three years in football and baseball.

Tom Harper, the Tigers' assistant head coach, came to Clemson from Virginia Tech's coaching staff on Feb. 2, 1981. The native of Piqua, OH served as the defensive coordinator for Virginia Tech, North Carolina, Iowa State and Wake Forest, where he was head coach in 1972. Harper graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1955 and received his master's degree at the same school in 1958. Nine of his former players have signed pro contracts in the last four years.

Chuck Reedy has coached Clemson's running backs for the last seven years. The St. Augustine, FL., native also recruits for the Tigers in southeast South Carolina, south Georgia and Florida. He earned two letters in football from Appalachian State where he graduated in 1971 with a degree in health and physical education. He came to Clemson from Kentucky on July 5, 1978.

Tommy West coaches the defensive and bandit ends and also recruits middle and south Georgia for the Tigers. He is in his fourth year at Clemson, he came from Appalachian State University on July 10, 1982. The Gainesville, GA, native earned his B.S. degree in health education from the University of Tennessee in 1975 after lettering three years in football and baseball for the Volunteers. A fine all-around athlete, he was drafted out of high school by baseball's Chicago Cubs.

For the sixth time in the last seven years the Clemson all-around sports program has been ranked in the top 15 in the nation. The survey, conducted by the Knoxville Journal, takes into account national rankings in selected sports. Women's sports are not included in this poll, which has been in existence since 1971.

This poll is a good index of Clemson's athletic success in recent years. Clemson first made the top 20 in 1975-76 with a number-20 finish. The Tigers had four top five finishes between 1980 and 1983, one of only two schools in the nation to do that during this time period.

The 1984-85 academic year was another outstanding season for Clemson sports as nine teams were ranked in the top 30 of their respective sports. Five male sports teams and four female sports teams were in the top 30, highlighted by the soccer team's national championship. Three other individuals were lauded as national champions as Richard Matuszewski and Brandon Walters won the NCAA indoor doubles national title, while Tim Krebs won the 1500 meters at the NCAA indoor track meet in Syracuse, NY.

Emergency Services

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations. (North stands, Upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck.) These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMT's and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE

Please step back and give the organized stadium EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interferes with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can be frequently more harmful than helpful.

MEDICAL ADVICE FOR FANS

If you have a pre-existing medical or health problem, please check with your personal physician and obtain his advice before attending games. Many emergencies occurring at the stadium do so because of prior existing conditions. Use common sense in dressing, eating, drinking and physical exertion. Be certain that you have identification on you as to the diagnosis and what medications you are currently taking.

Be aware of warning signs of heart attacks: chest pain, chest tightness, shortness of breath, sweating, palpitations, fainting, nausea and vomiting.

Recognize that our most common serious medical problem at football games are heart attacks and allergic reactions to insect stings. Be aware that insect stings will continue to always be very frequent at outdoor sporting events and should always be treated with immediate ice until advice can be obtained. If you have ever had a reaction to bee or other insect sting, check with your personal physician as to whether you should carry a kit.

The stadium emergency phone number is (803) 656-2999.

IPTAY, in its 52nd year as Clemson's athletic scholarship fund-raising club has continued on its long and successful journey. From a modest beginning in 1934 with only 162 members, IPTAY has grown to include 20,000 loyal Tiger supporters. IPTAY, "I-Pay-Thirty-A-Year," is recognized as the number-one group of its kind in the country.

During the 1984-85 academic year, IPTAY continued to grow and expand with the addition of three features. The IPTAY Athletic Academic Endowment was established during the fall of 1984 for recruiting scholarships for academics. The basic principle behind the endowment is that money donated by matching gift companies is earmarked for a separate scholarship just for academics.

IPTAY also introduced the Tiger Life program in late 1984. With Tiger Life, the Clemson IPTAY Club is the owner and beneficiary of a whole life insurance policy on a participant's life. The contributor makes comparatively small annual gifts for a maximum of eight years. Contributions go directly to Clemson University Tiger Life and all donations to Clemson and IPTAY are, of course, tax deductible. With this program, the member creates a sizable capital asset without impinging on the funds destined for his family. In effect, it creates a $100,000 endowment fund in the contributor's name.

During the past year IPTAY also adopted the Orange and White as the official publication of IPTAY. The Orange and White, which is published weekly from mid-August to March and monthly during April, June and July, began exclusive distribution to 20,000 IPTAY members in early September.

Listed above are just three features that IPTAY has implemented in order to continually attain new heights of success. But, the determining factor that has allowed IPTAY to flourish for over 50 years, is the undying dedication of its members.

The reason is people—people who are committed to a successful program at Clemson University, both on and off the field. Professors, athletes, administrators, managers, trainers, alumni, and friends all play a part in this success. The results which have been produced are something Clemson people can all be proud of in this search for excellence at Clemson University.

The on-going search for excellence in the academic area at Clemson University has resulted in the awarding of the 1984 Fulbright Scholarship for graduates to study overseas to six of six Clemson applicants. In addition, a Guggenheim Scholarship was awarded to another Clemson graduate. Of the 320 valedictorians in South Carolina 120 were accepted to Clemson University. Furthermore, a building program is being instituted on campus that will include a new chemistry building, as well as the expansion of several other departments.

That search for excellence is further exemplified by the efforts of the 20,000 IPTAY members who contributed $118,000 more in 1984 than the year before. These monies enabled over 440 athletes, managers, and trainers to receive scholarship aid to attend Clemson.

These athletes also have the strong commitment to excellence that Clemson supporters both deserve and desire. The Tiger football team has the fourth best four-year record in college football. In December 1984, the soccer team became the school's second national champion by defeating defending champion Indiana. Soccer, men's cross country, women's cross country, men's tennis and women's tennis were all Top 20 teams, while the men's and women's tennis teams were conference champions. Swimming and wrestling enjoyed their best seasons ever. There were 19 All-Americans and 60 all-conference performers competing for Clemson, in addition to six athletes that took part in the Olympics. There is no doubt that Clemson athletics enjoyed one of its best years ever.

IPTAY certainly was a major reason for these accomplishments. But, what is IPTAY other than scholarships? And how has Clemson University benefited from these 51 years of service? The Clemson IPTAY Club has a board of directors led by President Lawrence Starkey, Vice President Jim Patterson, and Secretary-Treasurer Eddie Dalton.

Under the direction of these men, the main purpose of IPTAY continues to be raising monies for athletic scholarships, and thanks to the foresight of athletic department officials and the support of the Board of Directors, many improvements have taken place on campus which are of benefit not only to athletes and fans of athletes, but to the academic area of the University as well.

Specific areas of improvement in recent years include installing lights on Riggs Field; building a new baseball facility (with lights that were added this spring); funding Tiger Band travel; donating over $200,000 to the President's Fund; and developing the East Beach area enjoyed by all Clemson students.

The attitude of Clemson people, especially those associated with IPTAY, is "success is a journey, not a destination." The search for excellence continues at Clemson and, thanks to the continued support of 20,000 IPTAY supporters, the excellence in athletics will continue. As IPTAY continues its service to Clemson, one may only wonder what the future holds.

After 23 consecutive years of record-breaking support, there is no doubt that Clemson will remain number-one.

When you purchase $215,000 worth of office supplies annually, you need to do it in the most cost-effective means possible.

That's the responsibility and challenge facing Russ Conley at South Carolina National Bank.

For every day, across the state, more than 2,300 people depend upon his department for the materials and supplies they need to respond to their growing audience of customers.

Harper Brothers lent a hand through the introduction of Purchasing Management System. A computerized mode of purchasing office supplies that is more time and cost efficient than anything else in the market.

Tough Customers Choose Piedmont.

People who take flying seriously complain if an airline isn't performing. So you can imagine how proud Piedmont was last year when, according to Air Transport World magazine, we received fewer complaints than any other major airline.

It's one reason why Air Transport World recently named us, of all the world's airlines, the Airline Of The Year. And a reason why our record against the competition has been so good lately.

WHEN TIMING IS CRITICAL...

LIFE REACH

As the region's preeminent
referral center

for patients with cardiovascular disease, Providence Heart Institute in Columbia treats patients from across
South Carolina.

And when a heart problem
needs immediate attention, our Life Reach helicopter can get a patient to us rapidly and safely.

The helicopter is fully staffed and equipped for critical care — and it can take off within 5 minutes of a call to our Emergency Room. At 150 miles an hour, the Life Reach crew can reach any hospital in South Carolina in under an hour — often in only minutes.
On the trip back, the medical team on the helicopter is in communication with doctors at Providence.

Heart disease touches almost every family in South Carolina. The Providence Heart Institute was created to provide the highest quality services for the diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular problems, and the Life Reach helicopter is a reflection of our dedication to that goal.

We are committed to offering the most up-to-date diagnostic and therapeutic services...with an expert medical staff...using the very latest techniques and equipment...in the finest facilities. Providence Heart Institute also has a commitment to research into the best methods of treating and preventing cardiovascular disease.

Our state's community hospitals are able to take care of almost any illness you'll ever have. But it's good to know that when specialized cardiovascular services are needed to complement those at primary care facilities, Providence is available. And it's reassuring, too, to have Life Reach Rapid Transport standing by —
when timing is critical.

Tiger Sports Review

by Foster Senn

Proving again that overall sports excellence is a tradition at Tigertown, the Clemson sports program was ranked 15th in the nation for the 1984-85 year. This was the sixth time in the last seven years that Tiger athletics have been ranked in the top 15 in the country.

Clemson was the only Atlantic Coast Conference school to be ranked in the top 20 in the poll, which is conducted annually by The Knoxville Journal. The survey takes into account the national rankings in many selected sports. The Arkansas sports program was ranked No. 1 last year with Texas and UCLA taking second and third, respectively.

"We pride ourselves on having a well-rounded athletic program," said Dwight Rainey, Clemson's associate athletic director, "so we're real happy to be in the top 15 again. We want all of our sports to be as successful as they can."

The highlight of the 1984-85 year was the soccer team's national championship. The booters gave themselves and Coach I. M. Ibrahim an early Christmas present December 16 by defeating Indiana 2-1 in Seattle for the national crown.

But the soccer team was not the only sport in which the Tigers did well. The women's cross country team finished fifth in the nation behind the running of Tina Krebs, and the men's tennis team concluded an impressive season by winning the conference championship and finishing eighth in the country. This was the sixth consecutive year that the men netters finished in the top 10 in the nation.

The men's cross country squad went over hill and dale to finish 13th in the NCAA's while the women's swimming team paddled and dove to a 19th-place finish. The women's indoor track team wound up 12th, led by Krebs and Kirsti Voldness.

Coach Andy Johnston's women netters captured the Atlantic Coast Conference championship on the way to a 19th-place national finish. This was the team's fourth consecutive title and the eighth time in the team's 10-year existence that it has finished in the top 20.

On the individual level Clemson had three national champions. Tina Krebs was the NCAA indoor champion in the 1500 meters, and the duo of Richard Matuszewski and Brandon Walters won the National Indoor Doubles Championship in February.

"Richard and Brandon are two of our hardest workers," says head tennis Coach Chuck Kriese. "They give 100 percent every match—against small colleges, big colleges, and in the national championship. What got them to the championship was consistency."

The Tigers had seven athletes named as Player-of-the-Year in the ACC in their respective sport: William Perry, Jim McCollom, Chuck Wade, Coy Cobb, Carolyn Hodge, Greg Moses, and Robert deBrouwer.

Perry had 100 tackles and 27 tackles for loss on his way to another All-America football season. "G. E. was also a finalist for the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award.

When McCollom finished his college baseball career in the spring, he had almost as many records as Michael Jackson. McCollom holds the conference career record in almost every offensive category including hits, home runs, and runs batted in. Last year he batted at a .390 clip, hit 21 home runs, and had a .749 slugging average.

The Clemson men's swimming team swept the individual awards. Wade was chosen as ACC Diver-of-the-Year, and Cobb was named conference Swimmer-of-the-Year. Cobb was also named an All-American for the third year. For the women's swimming team, Hodge was chosen ACC Diver-of-the-Year.

Moses capped off an exciting freshman year by being named ACC Outdoor Track MVP. The native of Athens, GA was the conference champion in the 100 and 200 meter races. deBrouwer won the ACC individual cross country championship on his way to being named cross country Runner of the Year.

Bob Boettner was named ACC Swimming Coach-of-the-Year, and Chuck Kriese was named Men's tennis Southeast Coach-of-the-Year.

Clemson athletes also collected many individual awards nationally. Bruce Murray was named National Soccer Rookie-of-the-Year, and 19 Tigers were named All-American. Some All-Americans were Perry and Dale Hatcher, football; Adubarie Otorubio, soccer; Miguel Nido, Walters, and Matuszewski, tennis; and Cobb, swimming.

Other Clemson athletes named All-American were Pam Hayden, Linda Rutter, Callie Emery, Molly Kueny, and Nadra Simmons, women's swimming; Nicole Stafford, women's tennis; Victor Smalls, indoor and outdoor track; Kirsti Voldness and Krebs, women's indoor track; and Krebs, women's cross country and outdoor track.

Clemson also had 41 men and 19 women named to All-ACC teams. Men's outdoor track led the way with 12 all-conference athletes while the men's and women's swimming team touched in second place with eight apiece. The football team had seven and the tennis team six.

For the year Clemson teams won 60 percent of its contests overall and 64 percent in the conference. The Tigers proved that home is still sweet as they won 74 percent of the contests in Tigertown.

Even though Clemson did finish 15th in the national overall rankings, it was only the second time in seven years that the Tigers failed to finish in the top 10. Rainey hopes that Clemson's absence from the top 10 "class" will not happen again soon.

"We've gotten used to being in the top 10 and we want to get back in there in the next few years if it's possible," he said. "Our goal is to always be in the top 10."

"We feel good about the direction in which we're going," he said. "We're making some improvements in facilities, and we feel that it will pay off in recruiting in the future. With this investment and with our outstanding coaching staff, we think we can get back into that top five or 10 where we belong."

THE ENEMY: RAIN

A mere 1/8" of rain could float your car off the road.

Hence the reason for Vector, Goodyear's superb handling all-season radial.

Vector's aggressive criss-cross tread actually pumps water away. To help your car maintain traction, even when the elements become hostile.

And Vector's performance advantages are enduring.

Even after thousands of miles of wear, Vector's deep tread and double-steel belts continue to give you outstanding traction and performance.

Vector

It simply performs like no other tire in the world.

Prestigious Clubs Give Major Boost To Clemson's Academic Programs

Among the 80,000 fans at today's game is a very special group of Clemson supporters. They are charter members of the University's three, new, major gift clubs, which recognize individuals who show their support for Clemson through generous and distinguished levels of giving for academic programs.

Members of the Presidents Club, Clemson Fellows and Founders Society have given or pledged more than $3 million in the past year, says Currie Spivey of Greenville, who chairs the clubs' executive committee.

And in the past three months alone, club memberships have more than doubled. There are now 141 members of the Presidents Club, eight Clemson Fellows, and 33 members of the Founders Society.

The Presidents Club, chaired by Tom Lynch of Clemson, includes persons who give or pledge to give over a 10-year period $10,000 or more in support of academics. The Clemson Fellows, chaired by Spartanburg's L.J. "Bill" Hendrix, is a select group of donors who give or commit to give $50,000 or more over 10 years. (Gifts since July 1, 1983, count toward membership in these groups.)

The Founders Society, chaired by University Trustee Buck Mickel of Greenville, comprises donors whose cumulative gifts and pledges to Clemson academics total $100,000 or more.

Spivey says there are multiple ways of making gifts that will apply toward club membership. "The clubs provide a means and an incentive for donors to make major investments in Clemson's excellence and growth as an academic institution," he says. "And, whether restricted or unrestricted, all gifts are part of the Clemson Loyalty Fund. These new clubs provide an excellent opportunity for the University to express appreciation to major contributors."

Benefits of club membership are numerous, including special social functions, a hospitality suite at the stadium, distinctive car decals and membership cards, and an annual, black-tie dinner-meeting featuring a speaker of international stature. "Our first dinner-meeting will occur in early 1986 in Greenville and will honor the charter members," says Spivey.

The charter membership period will end this December.

Counting the clubs' $3 million in new gifts and pledges, $8.9 million was given to Clemson for academic purposes from January 1984 through June 1985.

More information about the major gift clubs is available from the Development Office, 110 Daniel Drive, Clemson, S.C. 29634 (803/656-2121).

There's a lot of action in academics at Clemson University these days. The investments in excellence being made by members of the Presidents Club, Clemson Fellows and Founders Society are enabling the University to offer more scholarships, fellowships and research support, to recruit more highly qualified students and faculty, and to remain competitive with other high quality institutions.

FIELDING A WINNER

GIVING AMERICA THE POWER TO GROW ON

Success on the field doesn't come easy.

It takes a lot of work. A lot of planning. A lot of effort, skill and commitment.

Then, if you've worked hard enough and planned well enough. You come up with a winner.

And that's what the South Carolina Electric Co-ops have done over the past 50 years. By delivering affordable, dependable power to rural areas, they made possible the industrialization of more than half of our state.

Whether that industrial development took place in factories or on farms, rural electrification made production more efficient and effective, reduced food prices and expanded our potential for economic development.

That means life got better. On the farms. And in the cities. Because South Carolina Electric Co-ops are fielding a winner. For everyone.

The "Mann-Handler"

By David Webb

A football team can have a quarterback with the capability of winning the Heisman Trophy or even a pair of tailbacks that can rush for more than 1,000 yards each, and yet the success of that team will depend on a position that gets little recognition — the offensive line. If a team lacks an effective offensive line its backfield will be desecrated by the opposing defense. Wes Mann is a part of the offensive line to insure that the Clemson backfield is not desecrated by the opposing defense.

Mann, a senior from Jacksonville, Florida, has been labelled by Offensive Line Coach Larry Van Der Heyden as one of the Tigers' most versatile players. Van Der Heyden said, "Wes has had the ability to play at several positions, which has made him an asset to our program."

Van Der Heyden considers the offensive line the most difficult position on a football team. There is little recognition in the position and the linemen often miss the credit due for their efforts. For example, an effective offensive line will make the opposing defense look bad. What is the usual reaction? Fans note that the defense was flat instead of thinking that the offensive line was on top of its game.

Mann realizes that effect is part of his position. Mann said, "I've learned through the years that offensive linemen don't get the recognition that automatically goes with some other positions." Mann credits his teammates for giving the linemen the credit for blocks. He said, "Randy (Anderson) and Stacey (Driver) come back to the huddle and thank us for the blocking. If I know I am doing the best job I can do and the line is making openings to run the offense, then I don't need a lot of outside attention." Mann says that he plays for self-pride. Furthermore, the fact Clemson has been scoring more than 30 points per game in recent seasons illustrates the prowess of the Tigers' line. However, more than the lack of recognition makes the offensive line's job difficult. Van Der Heyden said, "It takes a special person with a lot of discipline to play on the offensive line." The linemen must go through the same blocking routine day after day. They also have to learn to read different defenses, a task that Van Der Heyden says can take up to two years for a player to learn.

Mann backs up that testimony. "I start to think about what I'm going to do in the huddle," he said, "That way, when I get up on the line and look over the defense, it's easier to make any necessary adjustments. Hopefully the way I block will be the same way I've worked it out in my mind and the way I've worked it out in practice."

One of the few seniors on the squad, Mann isn't too concerned with the "rebuilding" label that has been put on this year's team. He said, "This year's team is definitely young, but that doesn't mean we'll be a bad team." Mann points out that the Tigers scored 17 points in the fourth quarter to defeat Virginia Tech, 20-17. He believes that this team has the right attitude, saying, "I want a good year, and so does the rest of the team. We're just going to take the season one game at a time and concentrate on each one by itself."

Both Mann and Van Der Heyden suggest that Clemson success in 1985 will come from a team effort. Mann said,

"If we (the team) work hard and try for the best, then good things will come."

That philosophy has made Mann the success he is. He purposely arranges his class schedule so that his busiest days in the classroom are also his busiest days on the practice field.

Mann has a positive outlook not only for this season, but for his future. He concedes that the odds are against a career in professional football, although he'd really like the opportunity to play professionally. His first and foremost goal is to complete his education and earn his degree, something that Mann says will always be there to fall back on. He credits the coaching staff for being more than football coaches, but also teachers who have taught him lessons outside the classroom. Mann said, "When Clemson wins, it is the result of more than what the team does. Everyone from the players to the managers to the coaches and beyond have all played a part in the win."

So, the next time you think that a defense is playing flatly, make sure you notice the offensive line. And rest assured, with the likes of Wes playing for Clemson, it is doubtful that any defense will "Mann-handle" the Tigers.

This Day in Tiger Football

by Foster Senn

When collegiate football was first played the games usually didn't begin until October. Longer seasons with more games, however, pushed football into September during its infancy where it has been played with excitement ever since.

Nine times Clemson has clashed on September 28, picking up six wins and three losses in the process. Today is September 28, and the Tigers hope they can do as well as Clemson has done in the past.

1907 – The cadets of Clemson College braved wind and rain at Bowman Field to witness the Tigers in their earliest season opener to date. Clemson met Gordon Military Academy from Georgia this day on a muddy field. Clemson was playing under new coach Frank Shaughnessy, who had replaced Bob Williams. Shaughnessy was described as an enthusiastic man who put pep into his players, and this enthusiasm worked early as Clemson scored on its second possession. R. H. "Doc" McFadden carried the ball much of the way, and Stick Coles went in from 15 yards for a touchdown. This would be all the Tigers would need. The rest of the game featured plenty of defense and punting as Clemson picked up a 5-0 (touchdowns counted for five points then) win.

1929 – On a hot Saturday in Charlotte, NC, the Tigers trounced Davidson, 32-14. Clemson Coach Josh (as in "Gosh, Josh, how you'd beat them so bad") Cody directed his so called Yellow Peril to five touchdowns while the Wildcats could muster but four first downs. The Tigers were led by the passing of Goat McMillan and the running of Johnnie Justus. Justus was a small running back, but had so many moves some said he had "floating hips." Justus and the Tigers went wild in the fourth quarter, scoring 18 points to win easily.

1935 – After falling behind 7-0 early in the game, Clemson scored once in the second quarter and three times in the fourth quarter to rally past Virginia Tech 28-7 in Blacksburg. Mac Folger powered in from one yard to knot the score at seven for Jess Neely's team. Then, in the fourth quarter, big Cliff Henley broke through the line to block a Gobbler punt which Tate Horton picked up and ran in for a score. Joe Berry then intercepted a pass and ran it back for a touchdown, and he threw 23 yards to end L. C. Pennington for the game's final tally.

1940 – In Coach Frank Howard's second game as head coach, the Tigers walloped Wofford 26-0 at Riggs Field. A 64-yard reverse from Chippy Maness to George Floyd sent the Tigers to an early touchdown.

1957 – On this day Clemson and North Carolina met for the first time since 1915. Under the leadership of legendary coach Jim Tatum, the Tar Heels ran over the heavily favored Tigers 26-0 at Chapel Hill. UNC marched for a touchdown after the opening kickoff, and then recovered their subsequent kickoff.

1963 – Some things are supposed to bring good luck: four-leaf clovers, a rabbit's foot, etc. But sometimes those things don't work. Take this day for instance, Congressman Bryan Dorn mailed buckeyes from the capitol grounds in Washington, D.C. to the Tigers before their game with Georgia Tech in Atlanta. Then, with all the mythical powers on their side, the Tigers proceeded to get the devil beat out of them, 27-0. Tech, ranked ninth in the country coming into the game, was led by quarterback Bill Lothridge, who passed for three touchdowns, kicked two field goals and three extra points, and kept Clemson in the hole all day with his punting.

1968 – Georgia stopped the Tigers 31-13 before 59,008 boisterous fans at Sanford Stadium in Athens. The Bulldogs threw for over 300 yards, led by quarterback Mike Cavan. This was Georgia's fourth consecutive win over Clemson.

1974 – Pepper Rodgers and his Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets traveled up I-85 this day for Tech's first game ever in Clemson. After a close battle in front of 42,000 Clemson nabbed the win with Bennie Cunningham catching a four-yard pass for a touchdown in the fourth quarter on a fourth down play. This gave Clemson a 21-17 victory and Clemson coach Red Parker a ride off the field on the shoulders of his players.

Bennie Cunningham's fourth-period, fourth-down touchdown beat Georgia Tech on this date 11 years ago.

Sometimes, service means more than fixing a power line.

Greg Coats, SCE&G Lineman

That's the kind of service most people expect from us.

But that's not all we do. Our Summer Foundation provides assistance for organizations which aid people in need. Programs like the Baptist Medical Center Foundation and the Foundation for the Multihandicapped, Blind and Deaf of South Carolina, whose helping hands reach a lot of people.

If you know of an organization that could use our help, drop us a line. We'd like to be of service.

Satisfaction Guaranteed Or Your Money Back

Whatever you buy at Sears, you have the right to use it for a reasonable time before you determine it is satisfactory and decide to keep it. If you decide it is not satisfactory, return it to us at our expense. We will do whatever is necessary to correct the cause of your dissatisfaction.

If we can't satisfactorily provide a remedy, or if you request a refund, we will refund your full purchase price including any appropriate delivery charges, finance charges and applicable taxes.

Sears Pledge of Fairness

If, after you have decided to keep your purchase, it doesn't give you the service or performance you reasonably expect of it and there isn't a specific written warranty on the item that will satisfactorily correct the problem, please let us know.

We want to make an adjustment that you will consider fair.

You Can Count On Sears

You can count on Sears for satisfaction

Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back is a promise Sears has lived by for half a century. Other things you can still count on at Sears: fair prices, good workmanship, wide selection, competent service.

You pay good money at Sears. In return, Sears believes that you should be completely satisfied with everything you buy.

You must be satisfied with performance, quality of workmanship, fit, styling—even color. Suppose you buy a blue sweater through the catalog and the blue strikes you as different, however slightly, from the blue on the printed page.

Says Sears catalog: "In such a case, as with everything we sell, we guarantee your satisfaction or your money back."

Sears goes to extraordinary lengths to make certain that you will be satisfied. For instance:

1. Men and women from Sears spend thousands of hours a year at factories that make Sears products.

These men and women are called buyers, but they do a lot more than place orders. They study the needs and desires of Sears customers—and work personally with manufacturers to make certain that Sears products perform as expected.

2. The Sears Laboratory tests over 10,000 products a year.

Sears maintains one of the world's largest private laboratories for testing consumer goods. It tests for strength, durability, handling, and performance.

3. Sears employs engineers to help manufacturers improve their efficiency.

This is one of many steps Sears takes to help hold down costs. Others include an almost fanatically efficient distribution system.

Example: Refrigerator door handles are left off refrigerators for shipment to Sears stores. With door handles tucked neatly into cartons instead of sticking out, each carton can be a little smaller, Sears can get more refrigerators on each truck—and the shipping cost for each refrigerator goes down a few cents.

Dozens of small efficiencies like this explain why Sears regular prices are so reasonable, and Sears sale prices such terrific bargains.

So it's first to Sears for millions of shoppers—more than shop at any other store. These millions have found again and again that they are likely to spot exactly what they're looking for at Sears, to pay a fair price for it—and to be completely satisfied with it once they get it home.

There's more for your life at SEARS

◀ Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back has been firm Sears policy for over half a century. The words on this plaque stand behind every purchase by every Sears customer.

You can use Marvess® Olefin yarn for more fabrics than you thought... for less money than you think.

As the most extensive product line in terms of colors and deniers, Phillips Marvess olefin multifilament yarn sets the standard for the upholstery industry. But this technically superior yarn also has a wide variety of other fabric applications.

Fabrics for window curtains, shower curtains, drapes, mattress ticking, indoor/outdoor furniture covering, bedspreads. The list goes on and on.

So do the benefits of using this strong, yet lightweight yarn. For example, Marvess olefin has the lowest specific gravity of any fiber, which reduces the number of ends and picks needed per square inch. Thus it produces more yards per pound of fabric. And that means big savings to you.

Our non-allergenic, fade-resistant yarn also has extremely low moisture absorption, so less energy is required in the drying process — which means additional savings. And because of its high strength, wet or dry, fabrics don't need to be overconstructed.

Last, but certainly not least, Phillips Fibers has the largest plant capacity in the U.S. devoted exclusively to producing textile olefin filament yarns for the home furnishings industry. And the price is competitive, but then, that's what you'd expect from one of the performance companies.

For more information and service that's second to none, contact Olefin Fibers Marketing, Phillips Fibers Corporation, P.O. Box 66, Greenville, SC 29602. Call: 803/242-6600.

Paws For Pushups

By Jill Mixon

The recipe for exciting and fun-filled Tiger football outings includes many colorful sidelights—running down the Hill, tailgating, pep rallies, and Tigerama, just to name a few. But, the key ingredient that brings everything together is the capricious and flirtatious nature of that sideline showman, the Clemson Tiger mascot. The Tiger has entertained children from ages two to 92 for almost 30 years with his sideline antics, and many Tiger stories get better each time they are told.

The Tiger's tail is a much-sought-after prize at away games, as frequent attempts to claim the trophy have resulted in fights between the student bodies of the opposing schools. Tigers have been seen on goalposts, riding motorcycles, posing with the President of the United States, marching in visiting schools' bands, kissing homecoming queens, and generally getting into all kinds of mischief. But, THE Tiger tradition that has gained the most attention is the pushups.

Tiger mascot Zack Mills started a new tradition in the fall of 1978 by doing pushups for every point Clemson scored. This doesn't appear to be so difficult at first glance, but the pushups are done cumulatively. That is, when the gridiron Tigers scored to bring their point total to 17, the mascot Tiger would also do 17 pushups. When the team scored to bring their total to 24, the Tiger would do 24 more pushups, not just seven more. During the 1978 season, Mills established four Tiger pushup records, including the NCAA single season mark of 1,334 pushups in 12 games.

Mills served as the Tiger for two seasons, and in 1980, he turned the stripes of the suit over to Ricky Capps. The rookie Tiger could only manage 600 pushups, as the football Tigers of 1980 were not the scoring machine they had been the two previous years.

In 1981, things picked up, as the on-field Tigers lit up scoreboards to the tune of 338 points in 12 games. Due to the efforts of the National Champions, Capps concluded his senior season with 1,144 pushups, which nearly doubled his 1980 output, and Capps ended his career with 1,755 pushups.

Capps will also be remembered for setting the individual game pushup record. On Halloween Day 1981, Clemson scored 82 points against Wake Forest on the way to setting four conference records and three stadium records. While the team was running up and down the field, Capps was pumping out a total of 465 pushups, a pushup total that may not be broken.

The mascot from Wake Forest showed how spirited he was when Clemson scored it 76th point. Capps was near the point of exhaustion when the Deacon came to the aid of his fellow mascot. The Deacon did the 76 pushups for the Tiger, as the fans counted the total. Clemson scored again to make its point total 82, and Capps, now sufficiently rested, was able to complete the 82 pushups. Capps was recognized by the Tiger Band at the 1982 Orange Bowl, as he was allowed to dot the "i" in Tigers, an honor usually reserved for dignitaries and other bigwigs.

Capps made the symbolic passing of the head to Randy Faile for the 1982 season, and Faile proceeded to bring further honor to the Clemson Tiger as he was named National Universal Cheerleader Association mascot-of-the-Year at the national championships in Dallas, TX. Faile was the first Tiger to perform overseas duty, as he worked off 72 pushups in the Mirage Bowl in Japan. During his two-year Tiger tenure, Faile surpassed Zack Mills' career record of 1,801 pushups with 2,177 of his own to become Clemson's all-time pushup leader.

Jay Watson, who served as the mascot in 1984, did not break any career records, but he brought notoriety of his own when the Tiger appeared on the same stage with President Reagan in Greenville.

While it appears that the man inside makes the Tiger what he is, the suit is also a story in itself. The head weighs in at about 20 pounds, while the suit tips the scale at 45 pounds. The stripes are lined and quilted, which makes for a lot of weight loss to the Tiger's soul during the ball game. Mills, Capps, Faile, and Watson all report shedding up to 12 pounds in a single game, and to keep the suit from smelling like the inside of an old sweatsock, it must be cleaned three times during a football season.

The 1985 Tiger mascot, David Friedman, certainly has some big "paws" to fill this season. But, after a summer of hard work with the weights, Friedman should be ready for a season of pushups.

The legend of the Clemson Tiger continues to grow, and the question, "Who is that masked man?" will be heard more and more frequently in the coming years.

The Tiger does pushups after every Clemson score.

Today's Band Feature

By David Webb

IPTAY. That acronym means different things to different people. IPTAY. It is the nation's oldest and most successful college booster organization and the benefits derived from IPTAY assist Clemson University at almost every level. It is therefore appropriate that this collection of the Clemson loyalty be saluted today as the Tigers take on Georgia Tech on IPTAY Day.

Tiger Band will start the salute today with a pregame show commencing with "Sock It To 'Em", "The Orange Bowl March", and "Tiger Rag" while spelling the word "Tigers."

Today's guest of honor dotting the "i" in Tigers is Mr. Lawrence Starkey, the current president of IPTAY. Mr. Starkey was born and reared in Clemson, and received his bachelor's degree from Clemson in English in 1956 and later earned a master's degree in law. He worked with the Internal Revenue Service in Washington, D.C. and later in Atlanta, his current home. He left the IRS in 1974 and opened his own tax law firm. He has served as president of the Clemson Alumni Association and is a 26-year-consecutive donor to the Loyalty Fund.

The pregame show continues with Tiger Band's rendition of "You're A Grand Ole Flag" and "America The Beautiful", directed by Richard E. Goodstein and accompanied by the Clemson University Chorus; "The Star-Spangled Banner", directed by Bruce F. Cook; and the Clemson University Alma Mater, directed by William W. Campbell. The colors will be presented by an ensemble from the Pershing Rifles, Company C-4; Christopher R. York, Color Guard Commander.

Georgia Tech's Yellow Jacket Marching Band will open today's halftime festivities. The 170-member band under the direction of Mr. Bucky Johnson will open with "Boogie Down", arranged by Paul Lavendar, and will continue with the late 1970's classic "What I Did For Love", arranged by John Higgins. The Yellow Jacket Marching Band will conclude their halftime show with "Celebrate", arranged by Scott Keller. Georgia Tech will exit the field playing its renowned fight song, "I'm A Ramblin' Wreck From Georgia Tech".

The halftime show will continue with a medley of music from the Big Band era presented by Tiger Band. The show made its debut at the 1984 Summer Games of the XXIII Olympiad in Los Angeles. Selections featured include greats like "Take The A Train", "Don't Mean A Thing", "Sing, Sing,

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play,
Here the sons of dear old Clemson Reign Supreme alway.
CHORUS

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

Sing", "Tuxedo Junction", "Opus One", and "1:00 Jump." No Tiger Band halftime show would be complete without a salute to Clemson fans everywhere with "The Song That Shakes The Southland", TIGER RAG!

This week, Tiger Band would like to focus its spotlight on its percussion section. The 1985-86 edition of Tiger Band has 27 members in its percussion section. Mark Biering is the student commander of the percussionists, assisted by Michael Pry. Biering is a senior from Charleston majoring in industrial engineering; Pry is a junior from Greenville majoring in architecture. Dr. Richard E. Goodstein said about the percussionists, "I'm real proud of the effort put forth by our percussion section. There is no percussion instructor, which means that they are responsible for their own rehearsal." Goodstein said that the self-reliance exhibited by the percussion section is unique.

Members of the percussion section include: Snares — Michael Pry, John Keegan, Douglas Key, Andrew Liles, Michael Lloyd, Scott Martin, Ronda Tuck and Joel Winchip; Bass Drums — Mark Biering, Walter Betsill, Lisa Goodlett, Frances Guldner and Allen Nauright; Quads — Barney Derrick, Tom Hearom and Roddell Traxler; Cymbals — Barbara Byllick, Sand Christmus, Stephanie Facelli, Scott Mims, Tracy Smith and Jesse Yarborough; and Keyboards — Joe Hudson, Todd Turner, Angeline Ulmer, Ernest Wheeler and Christopher Wood.

Other activities this weekend included a pep rally last night. Sigma Chi's annual Derby Days festival was also held this week, culminating in a dance last night.

The percussionists are just one of the reasons Tiger Band is a "booming" success.

Tigers In The Crowd

By Kassie Kessinger

Janet Knight
Albany, GA

Knight, 21, is one of five returning Division I women's collegiate basketball players who averaged 20 points or better while hitting on 50 percent from the field and 80 percent from the free throw stripe. The All-ACC performer was named to Fast Break's third-team All-American squad a year ago and is a definite all-star candidate this campaign. A 5-11 forward, Knight ranks fourth on Clemson's all-time scoring chart with 1,388 points, needing just 113 more points to rank second. Her 54.2 percent field goal mark is the all-time Lady Tiger mark in that category. Knight has been the recipient of the Lady Tigers' Hustle Award the past three seasons and was named MVP a year ago. Entering her final campaign, Knight will look to add to her collection of five all-tournament selections, which include a pair of MVP trophies as well.

Chuck Wade
Brandon, FL

Wade, 19, is not only Clemson's top returning diver but the ACC's as well as the Florida native captured both the one-meter and three-meter ACC diving events last year as a rookie. For his winning efforts Wade was named ACC Diver-of-the-Year and helped the Clemson Tiger swim team to a runner-up finish at the 1985 ACC Swimming and Diving Championships. The 5-9, 140-pound sophomore will team with fellow second-year diver Dave Hrovat to give the Tigers the most potent one-two punch in ACC diving this year. A former two-time prep champion and high school All-American, Wade finished 15th in diving at the 1985 U.S. Senior Nationals. The Florida native was the 1984 National Champion in the one-meter and 10-meter diving events at the national age group meet. He also took part in the '84 Can/Am/Mex competition. Wade is pursuing a degree in forestry.

Bert Heffernan
Centerreach, NY

Heffernan, 20, is one of the Tiger's top returning baseball players. As a red-shirt freshman catcher last year Heffernan's 60 singles tied the school record for most singles in a season.

The 5-9, 176-pound sparkplug posted the second best overall slugging average of .527 and he had the third best batting average at .347. His fielding was near flawless as he committed just eight errors in 354 chances, the third best figure on the '85 club. Overall it was a banner year for the Tiger catcher as he punched out 85 hits, including 49 RBIs, nine home runs, 13 doubles, and a pair of triples. He not only has excellent power at the plate but he has excellent speed for a catcher as evidenced by his nine steals. Heffernan is an administrative management major.

Nicole Stafford
Gainesville, FL

Stafford, 18, is back for her second season with the Lady Tiger tennis program. She also is one of the top returning players in the country as she made All-American last year as a rookie. The 5-11 player had an outstanding year in which she played number-one most of the season for the Lady Tigers and was one of the top seeds in the women's NCAA Singles Tournament a year ago. She registered the most wins among the Lady Tigers, finishing her initial campaign with a 36-13 record. Stafford started playing at the number-three slot in early March and went on to capture the number-three ACC singles title. She was one of two Lady Tiger netters last season to capture a pair of ACC crowns as she teamed with Melissa Seigler to win the number-two doubles title. Stafford is a former prep All-American and was the number-one ranked junior player in Florida four straight years. Stafford is in her second year as a recreation and park administration major.

Mark Litts
Hodges, SC

Litts, 21, is one of two returning ACC wrestling champions for Eddie Griffin's Tigers. After finishing runner-up in the 167-pound class at the '84 meet, Litts captured the 158-pound division in

'85 and made a second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Litts' accomplishments were all the more incredible as he did all this following knee surgery in November of 1984. Overall the senior compiled a 29-6 record, including a 13-3 dual meet mark, and helped the Tigers to a number-11 national ranking and 14-5 record. As a sophomore in '84, his first year with the Tigers, the New Jersey native helped Clemson equal its best conference finish ever (second place) and qualified five wrestlers for the NCAA Tournament, another team record. His two-year ACC dual meet record is 8-2, including a clean 4-0 sweep last year. An accounting major with hopes of earning a law degree, Litts posted a 3.25 GPR for the 1984-85 school year, tops among wrestlers.

Robert de Brouwer
Hilvarenbeek, Netherlands

deBrouwer, 22, returns to defend his 1984 ACC Cross Country and District III Regional cross country titles. A member of both the cross country and track teams, the 5-11, 140-pound distance specialist also made the finals in the '85 NCAA indoor 3000-meter and 5000-meter outdoor events. He is the current Dutch National indoor record holder in the 5000 meters with a time of 13:33. In 1984, he copped a pair of bronze medals in both the 1500 meters outdoor outdoors and the 3000 meters indoors at the Dutch national championships. Bothered by an Achilles problem much of the outdoor season in '85, deBrouwer turned in some excellent times this summer, including a 7:50 clocking in the 3000 meter, and appears fully recovered. A junior, deBrouwer is a veteran of several international meets, including the world cross country championships at Gateshead, England a year ago. He is pursuing a degree in recreation and parks administration.

The Last Word

By Bob Bradley

Frank Howard didn't play Georgia Tech the first three years he was head coach at Clemson, and he probably wished he hadn't played them his fourth and fifth seasons because the combined score of those two games was 92-6, Georgia Tech.

Howard had held the Clemson football program together during World War II with a lot of players who for some reason or another could not qualify for the armed forces. "I was afraid the humane society was going to get me for putting some of those guys out there," Howard said, "but we struggled through and kept the ship from sinking."

The Tigers had winning seasons for Howard in 1940 (6-2-1) and 1941 (7-2), but in 1942, the first season after Pearl Harbor, the Clemson stock took a dip and Howard trodded through three straight losing seasons.

But in 1945, the ox got out of the ditch.

Listed among the six victories in 1945 was a 21-7 decision over Georgia Tech. This was the first year for an upstart head coach named Bobby Dodd. Dodd and Howard had come to their respective institutions the same year — 1931 — Dodd after completing his eligibility at Tennessee and Howard after graduating from Alabama following a Rose Bowl Victory over Washington State.

Howard and Dodd meeting on the gridiron was nothing new. They were just occupying different positions on the sidelines. While they were undergraduates at their respective schools, three times the Tide met the Volunteers.

"Seems like they beat us the first two times," Howard recalls, "but I know we beat them my senior year because we were undefeated." Asked about Dodd's ability to run Howard said, "He couldn't. I could run faster than he could, but he could pass, and could punt and could beat you."

Both coaches took assistant jobs, Howard under Jess Neely at Clemson and Dodd under Bill Alexander at Georgia Tech. When Neely parted ways with the Tigers for Rice after the Cotton Bowl victory, Howard was named Clemson head coach in 1940. It wasn't until five years later (1945) that Dodd succeeded Alexander at Georgia Tech.

And this was to be the first meeting of a dozen between the two.

The war had just ended in August, but most of the good players were still in service. And Howard started looking for help.

Georgia sensation Charlie Trippi had been released from service to return to the Bulldogs. And Howard went to work to get Butch Butler out of an army uniform and into a football uniform. He was told that because of so much pressure on the Trippi discharge that Butler could not be afforded the same privilege. But Howard came up with another idea.

Butler had lettered with the Tigers in 1941-42-43 before entering service and his experience would be a definite asset in post-war play. "Some of the guys we had playing for us were so young a cat could lick their whiskers off," Howard said.

Instead of getting a discharge, Howard worked up a deal with a colonel where Butler would get a 45-day pass. So technically, Butler would still be in the Army, but would be in a football uniform and not khaki.

Clemson was 2-1 when Butler got in the pads for the first time against Pensacola Naval Air Station, a game the Tigers won, 7-6. Butler's only statistics were in the punting game. After a scoreless battle against South Carolina, Butler started against Miami (Fla.) in a 7-6 loss, but then led the Tigers to three straight victories, the third one being a 21-7 win over Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

"I have been told that Dodd didn't even scout us," Howard said. "I know he started his second team against us. We didn't wait too long to score and then he put his first team in and we did better against them than the second."

The Tigers led 14-0 at halftime and each team scored in the fourth quarter to make the final 21-7 count.

Butler was unsuccessful on eight pass attempts, but scored two touchdowns rushing as he gained 71 yards on 13 carries, the longest being 25 yards. But he excelled in punting, averaging 47.6 yards on nine punts, having two over 50 yards and two over 60 — one going 69. But he also returned punts as well as kickoffs. It was easy to see what Butler meant to Clemson and why Howard got real buddy-buddy with an Army colonel.

"After we beat Tech, that gave us a 6-2-1 record," Howard remembered, but Wake Forest downed the Tigers, 13-6 in the final game. "If we had beaten Wake Forest, we were going to the Oil Bowl (in Tulsa) and Butch would have been our bread and butter man."

Howard says if the bowl trip had come to pass, he had already planned to ask for an extension on the 45-day pass. "Believe if I had given the colonel another fifth he would have come through for me," Howard says. "That first one I gave him was well spent because I don't believe we could have beaten Georgia Tech without Butler."

Frank Howard pulled some tricks to get Butch Butler on his squad for the 1945 Georgia Tech game.
